

IF AT FIRST

you don't succeed, try again---a good old adage and especially applicable here. If you were not successful in the last "Pin Problem" Contest---TRY AGAIN.

Here's the second problem: Take six pins and so arrange them in six of the circles in the diagram opposite that no two pins will be on the same line, either vertical, horizontal or diagonal. Remember---six pins this time.

When you have found the correct circles arrange your answer in a unique way as originality counts in the awarding of prizes.

The following prizes are offered for correct solutions prepared in the best way—FIRST PRIZE of $15.00 and one gallon of Velvet Kind Ice Cream; SECOND PRIZE of $10.00 and one gallon of Velvet Kind Ice Cream; THIRD PRIZE of $5.00 and one gallon of Velvet Kind Ice Cream; FOURTH PRIZE of $2.50 and one gallon of Velvet Kind Ice Cream; FIFTH PRIZE of $1.00 and one gallon of Velvet Kind Ice Cream. CLOSING EXERCISES OF JOHN KERR SCHOOL

Session Most Successful in History of Institution.
Young Men Charged With Selling Liquor
Without Government License.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Winchester, Va., June 15.—The John Kerr Memorial Public Schools, which were among the first to be established after the introduction of the public school system in Virginia, closed the most successful term in its history on Friday evening, when graduating exercises were held in the City Hall Auditorium. The total enrollment was nearly 615, and many had to be turned down on account of there being no room. Another building will be ready for additional pupils next fall. On account of the standard of the Winchester High School having been raised a full four-year course, it is no longer necessary for its graduates to attend another preparatory school before entering college and universities.

A very attractive commencement program was rendered on Friday evening. The principal address was made by Dr. E. H. Russell, president of the Fredericksburg State Normal School, who complimented Principal N. D. Cool and his faculty upon the excellent results they had obtained. Superintendent M. M. Lynch presented diplomas to the following graduates: Misses Theresa Lynch, Virginia Kurtz, Shirley Fansler, Marguerite Daugherty and Nan Keating, and Holmes Barr, Graham Rosenberger, John L. Brown and John Kline. Gold and silver medals for students entitled to the same were presented by Rev. George S. Bowers, pastor of Grace Lutheran Church. The Winchester Orchestra rendered a musical program during the exercises.

A number of young men of Winchester, who were recently convicted in the Police Court and the Corporation Court of selling whiskey in violation of the local option law, and who had either paid their fines or served time in jail, were surprised yesterday when Deputy United States Marshal John D. Rogers of Staunton, presented them with warrants, charging them with selling liquor without government licenses. The cases will be presented by the Anti-Saloon League, which has employed counsel to appear before United States Commissioner A. J. Tavenner at a hearing next week. did in 1911. Present indications are that Frederick will again be the banner county in Virginia this year as an apple-producer.

The eleventh annual convention of the Sunday School Association of the Baptist Churches in the Shenandoah Valley was held last week at Bentonville, Warren county, and was attended by large numbers of pastors, superintendents and Sunday school members.

Dr. William S. Turner, thirty-five years old, a son of the late Rev. George Turner, of Stephens county, died of nervous prostration on Saturday at the home of his brother, George Turner, near that place. He practiced medicine in St. Louis a number of years, when his health broke down, and after recuperating at his old home he went last January to Pittsburgh, where he established a large practice. He broke down again and had been at the home of his brother for three weeks. He leaves a young widow, but no children.

A rattlesnake nine feet long by actual measurement and carrying twenty-two rattles, attacked J. M. Loy while he was felling timber near Haystack, Frederick county, several days ago, and was getting the better of him, when fellow-workmen, who were some distance away, rushed to his assistance. The snake struck several times at Loy, striking his boot once, and although he made frantic efforts to beat off its attacks with a club, it continued its attacks until one of his companions dealt it a blow on the head with a fence rail. Loy was exhausted as a result of the encounter with the snake.

Charles Barrick, a Shenandoah county farmer living at Columbia Furnace, who was seized with an attack of appendicitis, was brought to the Winchester Memorial Hospital several days ago for an operation, but although the operation was performed, the man died several hours later.

A program is being already mapped out for the sixth annual convention of the Anti-Saloon League, which will be held at Middletown on August 22. A number of the speakers are on the program to make addresses and efforts will be put forth to intensify the Anti-Saloon League interest in Winchester and Frederick county.

The annual horse show of the Blue Ridge Hunt Club, which numbers among its members many of the wealthiest people who have country homes in Clarke county, will be held here at the historic Carter Hall mansion on July 4, beginning at 11 o'clock. The program includes twenty-two well-arranged and attractive classes. Many of the best horses in Virginia are annually shown at the club's Carter Hall show, and all the members of the club keep open house during the day and arrange many handsome entertainments for their guests.

Many of the Richmond children who were recently brought on a fresh-air outing to Longwood, the ancestral home of Dr. Gwynn Harrison, of Richmond, are now all well and are well supplied with an almost endless variety of noise-making devices and other playthings.

Beery Hoover, a lad of about eleven years, the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. I. Hoover, who have been relatives in and about Harrisonburg for some time past, made the trip from that place through Winchester and Capon Bridge to Romney, W. Va., to join his parents to-day, without the slightest fear of being molested. He was driving in a pony cart, and made the entire trip in less than three days. The country between the western part of Frederick county and Romney is very wild and is inhabited by bears, snakes and other dangerous creatures, yet they did not alarm the young traveler.

Invitations have been issued by Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Hauptmann, of Boyce, Clarke county, for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Edith Hauptmann, to Thomas H. Moore, which is to take place at the home of the bride's parents on June 20. Young Mr. Moore is a son of Rev. and Mrs. H. C. Moore, of Harrisonburg, Va.

The annual meeting of the Sunday School Convention of the Christian Church in the Shenandoah Valley was held for several days last week at the church at Palmyra, near Edinburg, Shenandoah county. All the members of the church were present, and among those making addresses were Rev. William T. Walters, of Winchester, president of the Virginia Valley Central Conference, Rev. W. T. Anderson, of Harrisonburg, also spoke.

Between eighty-five and ninety lambs belonging to E. Redmond, a Richmond stock dealer, were smothered to death several days ago, when a Baltimore and Ohio Railroad freight train was derailed near Raphine, a brake beam having fallen from a car truck. Mr. Redmond was quite badly bruised, and Conductor John A. Bowers and members of his crew were slightly injured. Reports state the lambs were virtually butchered in the wreck were emphatically denied by Superintendent J. E. Frier, who declared that not one drop of blood was seen anywhere.

A motion for a new trial, made immediately after Morrison H. Miller, a Frederick county farmer, had been convicted last Thursday of shooting and killing his neighbor, Rural Mail Carrier George O. Crisman, last October, was withdrawn in the Circuit Court here yesterday by Attorney H. R. Kerlan. The jury's recommendation that Miller be sent to State Prison for ten years and four months was imposed by Judge T. W. Harrison. Miller was allowed to visit his aged parents and his wife and children at their respective homes, accompanied by Sheriff Fannett, before going to the penitentiary at Richmond early this week.

Verdict of Not Guilty.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Elizabeth City, N. C., June 16.—The jury in the case of the State against Hugh Robinson upon the charge of murder, after a trial of several days, yesterday reached a verdict this afternoon at 6 o'clock, after having been out twenty-four hours. The verdict was "not guilty," and it came as a surprise to those who had followed the case. Hugh Robinson shot a seaman named Harney on the State militia boat Florida several weeks ago while it was lying at a dock here. Harney died of his wounds in a Norfolk hospital. The shooting was the outcome of a dispute, in which Robinson left the ship and came back, shooting Harney upon his return.

Woodmen Unveil Monument.

Franklin, Va., June 16.—The monument marking the grave of the late John T. Edwards, of this place, was unveiled in the cemetery here this afternoon by Holly Camp, No. 18, Woodmen of the World. The procession was headed by Woodmen of the World Band, No. 32, of Suffolk. The principal address was made by Rev. G. C. Duncan, of Carverville. The dedication poem was delivered by S. B. Lathan, of Norfolk, head manager of the Virginia Woodmen.

PLATFORM DRAFTS HAVE BEEN DRAWN

Chicago, June 16.—Both the Taft and Roosevelt drafts for a platform have been outlined, and both can be put in shape for submission to the committee on resolutions on very short notice.

Most of the work on the Roosevelt declarations was completed prior to Mr. Roosevelt's arrival in Chicago, while the first formal meeting over the Taft pronouncement was held to-day.

The Roosevelt pronouncement is the result of labors of many of his friends, but principally of his former Secretary of the Interior, James A. Garfield, Gifford Pinchot and William Allen White, of Kansas.

All the plans have undergone the inspection of Colonel Roosevelt himself, and while he has not passed on them finally, he has indicated his formal approval of most of them.

To-day's meeting of Mr. Taft's friends several drafts were presented, and the meeting was largely to select from the material presented. The approved blanks will be joined together and another meeting held prior to submission of the paper to the resolutions committee.

The conference was attended by Senator Crane, President Taft's secretary, Charles D. Hillis; Representative McKinley, former Taft's campaign manager; President Vice-President Franklin, who probably will be chairman of the platform committee; Senator Elihu Root, Charles Hopkins Clark, of Connecticut; Professor Nicholas Murray Butler and William Barnes, Jr., of New York.

Necessarily, the two documents cover the same ground, but there is wide divergence in the recommendations.

The tariff receives a prominent place in both, and both endorse the principle of the production of the tariff. Miller was allowed to visit his aged parents and his wife and children at their respective homes, accompanied by Sheriff Fannett, before going to the penitentiary at Richmond early this week.

Instruments tending in that direction, whether primary elections, election of United States Senators by direct vote, the initiative, referendum and recall. The fact will be recognized, however, that many of these agencies can be employed only in the government of the States, and in such cases the platform will specially refer them to the various communities for local determination.

A female suffrage plank is one of the new features of the Roosevelt declaration. The initiative and referendum will not be touched upon by the Taft document, but the recall will be flatly denounced as calculated to undermine the stability of government.

The principle of a central banking reserve will be supported by the Taft resolutions, but the Aldrich bill will not be referred to by name. The Roosevelt declaration will mention the Aldrich plan, but to condemn it. Both documents will declare for the conservation of the natural resources of the country, but the Roosevelt pronouncement, which is understood to be much more sweeping in its demands. Both pronouncements favor a strong navy. The improvement of the Mississippi River on a comparative scale will be advocated in the Roosevelt paper.

The platform prepared by President Taft's friends commends his administration in high terms; the Roosevelt paper is silent on that subject. The Taft document will be brief if the advice of the men at to-day's meeting is heeded. They take the position that only the essentials should be presented. The Roosevelt document will be longer and more specific.

SUBMITS PLANKS OF HIS PLATFORM

Senator Newlands Desires It Adopted by Democratic National Convention.

Baltimore, Md., June 16.—United States Senator Francis J. Newlands, of Nevada, has drafted a platform, which he desires adopted by the Baltimore convention, and to-day he came over from Washington to submit the plan to the National Committee on resolutions. Senator Newlands conferred with Chairman Mack, who informed him that his tentative platform should be submitted to the committee on resolutions. Senator Newlands left later for Washington.

One of the planks of Senator Newlands' tentative platform declared that the Constitution should be amended so as to confine the right of suffrage in the future to people of the white race "and the favoring of a law" prohibiting the immigration to this country of all people other than those of the white race, except for temporary purposes of education, travel and commerce.

Other planks submitted by Senator Newlands favor the gradual reduction of the tariff toward a revenue basis; the breaking up of private monopolies; a declaration against any modification of the Sherman antitrust law; favoring the union of both national and State banks within the boundaries of each State in reserve associations; the expenditure of at least $50,000,000 annually for the development of rivers for navigation, and the appropriation of $25,000,000 annually for good roads and a like sum for new fighting ships.

Headquarters for Governor Woodrow Wilson, of New Jersey, and Speaker Champ Clark are to be opened here to-morrow. Leaders of the Clark and Wilson forces reached here to-day, and prepared the details of setting up their camps and arranging their plans to capture the arriving delegates. Edward E. Grosscup, chairman of the Democratic State Committee of New Jersey, led the Wilson forces, which will be joined to-morrow by W. F. McCombs, of New York, campaign manager of the New Jersey Governor. Mr. Grosscup says that while the New Jersey delegation is bound by the unit rule, the Wilson forces are not disposed to enforce it if the three delegates opposed to Governor Wilson desire to vote otherwise.

United States Senator Gore, of Oklahoma, believes that the race for the presidential nomination will have to be fought out on the floor of the convention.

"It is a convention fight, but a friendly one," said Senator Gore, "and when it is over every one will be for the ticket."

Inspect Proposed Railroad Route.
(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Warrenton, Va., June 16.—Channing M. Ward of Chicago and Richmond, president of the proposed Richmond and Northern Neck railroad, accompanied by W. B. White, an attorney, and John E. Allen, both of New York, representing banking interests, are looking over the proposed route.

This lady suffered agonies for years

All doctors and medicines failed to help her until she found "B.B.B."

She is Miss Lula Banks of Chambers Co., Alabama.

"I had a long spell of typhoid fever," she writes. "From that my decline was gradual. A year ago I appeared in my right mind, was examined by dozens of physicians, among them the President of the Board in Atlanta, Ga. One said it was a fever cake; another said gallstones; another enlargement of the fallopian tubes."

"I took 25 kinds of medicine from one physician. I had other long spells of typhoid. I had a critical case of Septic fever. I suffered agonies with my stomach and bowels. Once hemorrhages came on; and every one thought I was dying."

"At last, thank God! someone gave me a bottle of B.B.B. Heaven bless the man that gave it to me and ten thousand blessings on the one that made it. All these years nothing did me any good except for a short time. But B.B.B. has entirely cured me. I was almost a skeleton when I commenced to take it. Now I weigh 147 pounds. B.B.B. is the best woman's medicine in the world."

Yes. And it is the best medicine for ulcers, rheumatism, catarrh and every form of blood trouble. B.B.B. creates pure rich blood. And that is the real cure for every bodily ail. Here is a sure relief for your trouble, too.

Your druggist will supply you. Insist on a trial of B.B.B. And ask for it today.
